

Other Safety Resources

These organizations provide in-depth information about a variety of safety topics. They are all seasoned, mature, and have stood the test of time in bringing accurate, complete information to all who use them. We recommend you consult them for all your safety needs.

The following links are provided for the convenience of our customers. Miller Electric makes no representations or warranties regarding the content or availability of these resources. Any concerns regarding these sites should be directed to the particular organization.

American Welding Society (AWS)

Safety and Health Fact Sheets

- Electric Shock
- Contact Lenses
- California Proposition 65
- Confined spaces
- And Many More

www.aws.org

National Electrical Manufacturers Association (NEMA)

Applications Guides for Electrical Safety

- Hazards of working on electrical equipment hot
- Safety Guide for use of extension cords
- Guidelines for handling water damaged electrical equipment

www.nema.org/index_nema.cfm/1260

National Fire Protection Association (NFPA)

All sorts of information on

- Fire prevention during welding, cutting, and other hot work
- Hot work issues
- Safe practices around flammables
- Major causes of fires
- Fire and burn prevention methods

www.nfpa.org and www.sparky.org

Occupational Safety and Health Standards (OSHA)

- Federal Regulations
- Requirements for operations and equipment
- Interpretations of the regulations

www.osha.gov